Dear Educator,

As the snow begins to melt, we are starting to plan for the spring semester of TeacherLine. This season is about new beginnings and growth and what better time to focus on your professional development. Our semester offerings have also grown, with many organizations around the state requesting specific classes. These high-quality courses are run completely online over a six week period of time. You will have weekly assignments as you communicate with educators from across the state. Graduate credit is also an option, and with a starting price of $199 for a 30 hour course, it is a low cost for a big impact in your classroom.
